

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Friday, June 22

2001

Kross, Singer to lead Space Transportation Directorate

Denny Kross has been named director and Christopher Singer deputy director of the Space Transportation Directorate at Marshall. Kross succeeds Dr. John R. "Row" Rogacki, who is going to NASA Headquarters in Washington, D.C., to serve as deputy associate administrator of NASA's Office of Aerospace Technology. Singer replaces Dennis E. Smith, who was appointed in May to manage the new Second Generation Reusable Launch Vehicle Project Office at Marshall.

Check out status of International Space Station on the Web at: <http://scipoc.msfc.nasa.gov>

Review Safety Bowl questions on the Web on 'Inside Marshall'

NASA, Marshall to recognize employee achievements

NASA and the Marshall Center will recognize 247 employees who have made exceptional contributions to America's space program during ceremonies Tuesday. NASA-level awards will be presented at 10 a.m. in Morris Auditorium. Center-level awards will be presented at 2 p.m. in the auditorium.

Listening, coping workshops set June 28 canceled

The Improve on-the-job listening and speaking skills and coping with tough times workshops set for June 28 have been canceled due to low enrollment. Workshops will be rescheduled.

Thrift Savings Plan Open Season through July 31